

Greetings Fellow Humanists and Friends!

Meetings for this month are as follows:

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9th, 6 PM at a new restaurant, MOONSTRUCK CAFE (upstairs) located on the southwest corner of THIRD AVENUE and 31ST STREET.

SPEAKER: JOSEPH FIELDS will be reporting on the recent International Humanist and Ethical Union Conference which took place in Mumbai (formerly Bombay) India. He was impressed with the level of Humanist activity worldwide reported by attendees from dozens of countries, especially the Humanists of the Indian sub-continent. He tells of reports of contacts with Islamic heads-of-state, who replied affirmatively to statements of Humanist principles. Mr. Fields will share photos.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27th, at THE WALTER READE THEATER AT LINCOLN CENTER. A movie about THE BATTLE OF ALGIERS will be presented at 6 PM followed by a discussion open to the public.

SPEAKERS: The famed movie maker, GILLO PONTE CORVO, AND DR. EDWARD SAID, Professor of Islamic Studies at Columbia University, will be offering their commentaries.

Those who wish to share information and to socialize will be gathering in the Student Cafeteria behind the Theater starting at 4 PM and perhaps a plan will develop to have dinner afterward.

Members of the Film Society may wish to make their own reservations. Tickets go on sale one week in advance and it may be a sell-out. So that we might make a group reservation and pay with one credit card, we ask that you call (212) 687-2477 to leave your request for the number of tickets you wish and whether you need the senior discount.

Best wishes, and hope to see you soon.

Beth K. Lamont
